2021

AT A GLANCE

FEEDING PROGRAM

The Adam Molai Foundation (AMF) feeds 500 vulnerable people per day, translating to 2000 per week. This includes the old, children, women and men.

Congrats!

AMF started running a scholarship program in 2021 with eight (8) students from vulnerable backgrounds.

Six (6) students went to universities in South Africa while two (2) students attended universities in Zimbabwe, one (1) completing her honors degree recently.

GIVING A CHEER TO THE OLD PEOPLE

AMF in partnership with Genelnsure supported Idawako Old People 's Home with groceries to assist them for their day to day needs.

MAHEU

AMF continued our partnership with Dombotombo Primary School where 1800 pupils are fed fortified mahewu four days a week. The mahewu has both mineral and nutrients that ensure that they maintain healthy bodies.

BOREHOLES

AMF drilled two boreholes in Dombotombo East and Cherutombo suburbs of Marondera giving the communities access to clean water. This project has paved way for the implementation of sustainable projects by the Foundation in 2022.

2022 MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR

Compliments of the new season!

We hope the new year brings us both a fruitful and good year.

Welcome our stakeholders, our internal clients, partners to 2022 and to uplifting communities. The year 2021 was a challenging and a difficult year to most because of the COVID pandemic. We made it through out the whole year as we continued to work behind the mask. My appreciation goes to AMF team who made all the programs a success. This year 's theme will be Sustainability driven by entrepreneurship.

The pandemic and the indefinite lockdown extension has negatively affected most citizen livelihoods in a highly informalized economy, where informal traders make up a larger proportion of the workforce in the country.

In the wake of continued economic hardship, part of the community lives from hand to mouth, leaning on informal trading and other survival tactics. The indefinite lockdown means increased hunger and deprivation for many as the informal markets remain shut.

According to ZIMSTAT, the Food Poverty Line (FPL) for a single person in November this past year was $5,424. The Total Consumption Poverty Line (TCPL) for one person stood at $7556. If an individual does not consume more than the TCPL, he or she is deemed poor. While the Foundation in 2022 will largely focus on sustainable livelihoods in communities, intervention to supplement food and nutrition will continue, albeit at a reduced scale.

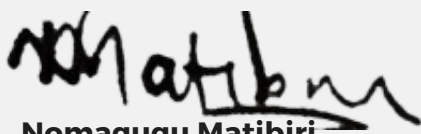

The Foundation will partner with and empower the communities with sustainable projects, and where we can intervene in the short term whilst harnessing the potential in education. The push for sustainable projects, harnessing the local communities' willpower and resources from stakeholders to eradicate poverty and dependency will also be part of our focus.

We appeal to existing and potential corporate partners and individuals to come on board to build and uplift our communities for a better tomorrow.

The following are the interventions and projects we will work on:

- 1) Feeding nutritious meals for over 2000 people a week
- 2) Drilling of boreholes in our communities to enable them to have sustainable projects.
- 3) Dombotombo Primary School Maheu feeding Program, feeding over 1800 students per week.
- 4) Adam Molai Foundation Scholarship
- 5) Market gardening projects for the vulnerable communities.
